

ALICK'S CLIVIA CATALOGUE

Alick & Frances McLeman

ABOUT US: We have been specialist growers of clivia since the early 1990s and have built up an international class collection of these lovely plants, including all 6 species and many different varieties. Rare collector plants are exported all over the world and in March each year we produce an international seed catalogue which is available on request. We use selected parent plants from our collection to produce a range of seedlings for New Zealand gardeners & landscapers. Alick is the Secretary of the New Zealand Clivia Club.

ABOUT CLIVIA: Clivia are hardy, low maintenance, shade-loving plants. They don't like wet feet and need to be well-drained (don't dig holes in clay soils), may tolerate a little early morning sun, but prefer full shade, and are frost tender. Prepare your soil by digging in lots of vegetative compost. Feed occasionally with a granular, slow release fertiliser or sheep pellets. There are 6 species, and many interspecific varieties, of which C miniata with its huge flower heads is most widely known. Other species have less showy, pendulous flowers but may provide colour at other times of the year.

OBTAINING PLANTS: We are not a garden centre but welcome visitors. Plants can be purchased direct from our nursery. Just phone first to ensure that we will be in attendance. Otherwise we post plants bare-rooted by standard parcel post to any destination in New Zealand. There is a small charge for postage and packaging.

CLIVIA MINIATA

Yellow hybrids: Parent plants are selected from our collection for width of leaf, large flower umbels, broad petals and good colour. Plants are 30-36 months old and should flower in 2011.

Price: $12.50 each (Discount of 20% for orders of 10 or more plants)
Prices for larger plants available on request.

Cream hybrids: Parent plants of the well known Vico Cream strain. Renowned for its large florets. The flowers are a soft creamy yellow. Plants are 30-36 months old and should flower in 2011.

Price: $12.50 each (Discount of 20% for orders of 10 or more plants)
Prices for larger plants available on request.

Red hybrids: Parent plants are selected from our collection for their broad leaves and attractive plant form, and good colour of the florets. Plants are 30-36 months old and should flower in 2011.

Price: $12.50 each (Discount of 20% for orders of 10 or more plants)
Prices for larger plants available on request.

NOTE: While the parent plants used in producing our seedlings are of the highest quality, there will always be some genetic variation in seedlings. "Your children are similar but not identical to you".

Orange hybrids: Parent plants are selected from our collection for their broad leaves and attractive plant form, and good colour of the florets. Plants are 30-36 months old and should flower in 2009. These are not your common Kiwi clivia.

Price: $12.50 each (Discount of 20% for orders of 10 or more plants)
Prices for larger plants available on request.

PEACH LUCKY DIP: Chubb's Peach strain crossed with selected yellow hybrids with a view to improving the floret form. Please note that peach is still a relatively rare colour and plants in flower sell for $100 or more. The plants in question have a 50:50 chance of flowering either peach or yellow, hence the "lucky dip", but are priced accordingly. Plants are 30-36 months old and should flower in 2011.

Price: $20.00 each (We do have small offsets of peach flowered plants and/or large plants which have already flowered peach. Prices on request.)

SOMETHING DIFFERENT - Other species & varieties:

C gardenii 'Everton Falls'

C gardenii: Fast growing species with pendulous flowers in Autumn, May/June. Clump rapidly. Plants are 30-36 months old and should flower in 2011.

Price: $12.50 each (Discount of 20% on orders 10 or more plants). Prices for larger plants available on request.

C gardenii "Eshowe"

C. nobilis: This very slow growing species (8-10 years to flower) was the first clivia species discovered in the wild in South Africa in the early 1800s. We have some large flowering size plants and smaller offsets available. Plants flower from September through November.

Price: $30.00 each (Flowering size) $15.00 each (Smaller offsets)

INTERSPECIFIC: Australaian cyrtanthiflora (C miniata x nobilis)
This very attractive, interspecific clivia tends to flower twice a year, in December/January and again in July/August ... and sometimes in between. (Winter colour)

Price: $15.00 each. Prices for larger, flowering size plants available on request.

INTERSPECIFIC: Alick's Minigard (C miniata x gardenii)
Attractive, fast growing and clumping interspecific clivia that flower in July.

Price: $15.00 each. Prices for larger, flowering size plants available on request.
